A Thought from the Word

Last Judgment

Malachi 4:1,2

The Last Judgment is something unbelievers don't like to discuss very much. It promises to shake the very foundation of their lives as all that "stuff" in which they have placed their trust will be destroyed in the fire. Considering this, the temptation is to "eat, drink, and be merry" because tomorrow everything could be destroyed. Praise the Lord for compelling us, his people, to "revere" his name. The "stuff" of this world is not something in which we place our trust. Instead we are to manage it during our life to God's glory. May the way we manage our "stuff" reveal people as joyful and carefree as a calf leaping in the spring, since we are awaiting our joyful entrance into heaven.

Mission Prayers

Commission on Worship – Heavenly Father, grant us grace that the life, words, and works of Christ may be preached, made known, and preserved for us and all the world. To that end, O Lord, we ask your blessing upon the work of our synod's Commission on Worship, which exists to help congregations in their central activity of worship that glorifies God and strengthens his people. Help us to grow in the knowledge of your Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, and to remain firm in confessing his blessed Word. Lead us to treasure the gift of your grace, which we receive through the Word and sacraments, above all our other possessions. Amen.
